TO AID THE POOR

Ministers to Ask For Free Offerings.

Contributions Will Be Collected the Last Sunday in January.

A movement is on foot that will no doubt meet with a hearty reception from all. Owing to the great amount of suffering and poverty that is being encountered on all sides this winter, it has been decided to request the ministers of the city to set apart the last Sunday in January to take a free will offering from their congregations to help the poor of the city. They will be asked to announce this next Sunday, and in various ways to emphasize it so that the following Sunday may find all prepared. This will mean very little to the churches and their attendants but will prove a great help to the charitable ladies in their rounds of mercy, and will no doubt be liberally met.

Johnstown, Pa., Jan. 21.—An immense steam pipe directly over the engine in the boiler room of No. 2 mill of the Cambria Steel Company, exploded at 1:30 o'clock this morning, bringing down the whole section of roof running from the puddling mill to the finishing shed of the mill. The woodwork at once took fire from the furnaces and burned.

Added to the fire and explosion disaster a large water pipe burst and flooded the scene of the accident.

SHOT IN HEAD

Colored Girl Mortally Injures Herself.

She Was Playing With a Pistol When it Was Discharged.

IS STILL ALIVE SO FAR

Mary Duke Johnson, the 12 year old daughter of Rachel Johnson, colored, who resides at No. 1229 South Eighth street, mortally shot herself this morning about 8:30 o'clock while toying with a .38 caliber pistol.

The girl had gotten hold of the revolver and was playing with it unnoticed until the shot was heard. Her mother ran into the room and found the child lying on the floor with a bullet wound in her head, and in an unconscious condition, the bullet having entered the base of the skull and lodged in the brain.

Dr. Van J. Davis was summoned and did all possible for the girl which was no more than to administer opiates. The bullet entered the head just behind the left ear and ranged upwards slightly. No operation could be performed as the operation itself might cause death, and the case is considered a hopeless one.

At press time the girl was reported still alive.

GOES TO CAIRO

Mr. George B. Wearren to Be a Member of Big Firm.

Will Establish a Large Wholesale Grocery at Cairo—$15,000 House to Be Built.

MR. SMITH FIELD IN IT

A Paducahan and a former Paducahan are among those who are shortly to start a large wholesale grocery at Cairo, Ill. Yesterday's Cairo Telegram states:

"Dr. W. F. Grinstead of this city, today closed a contract with Hon. Smith Fields, president of the City National bank at Fulton, Ky., George B. Wearren of Paducah, Ky., and Messrs. Morris & McCall of Fulton, Ky., for the occupancy of a fine new building he will erect at Eighth street and Ohio Levee. These gentlemen will compose a wholesale grocery company which will embark here in business as soon as the proposed new building is completed. The style of the firm will be the Fields-Wearren Grocery company and it will be incorporated with a capital stock of $50,000. Cairo is to be congratulated on the addition of so important an enterprise to her business interests and also upon the fine building which Dr. Grinstead is to erect. The grocery company will start in active business about June 1 or sooner if the building is completed before that date.

The building will cover the entire lot which is 25 feet front by 140 feet deep. It will be four stories high above the basement and will be the tallest business block in Cairo. Dr. Grinstead facetiously remarks that "Mr. Fields wants to get a bird's eye view of Fulton from the roof and Mr. Wearren wants to be able to see Paducah from the same altitude. A roof garden, however, is not contemplated."

The building will be modern in every respect and will be heated by steam. An electric elevator will be installed.

The cost of the building will be about $15,000. The gentlemen who compose the new company are among the most substantial business men of Kentucky. Mr. Smith Fields is president of the City National bank at Fulton, director of the Cairo National bank and a member of the well known firm of Fields Bros. of Fulton, the largest tobacco dealers in that section. The latter firm has represented the Italian government as contractors for ten years. Mr. George B. Wearren, who has had an extended experience in the wholesale grocery business and is at present with the Baker, Eccles & Co., a large wholesale house of Paducah, will be the manager. He will remove his family here from Paducah as soon as the business is started. Morris & McCall are capitalists and experienced grocers of Fulton, who have been identified with the business for years.

MR. J. F. SHERIDAN ACCEPTS A POSITION WITH THE SOUTHERN ROAD.

Mr. J. F. Sheridan, formerly trainmaster on the Paducah and Central City division of the Illinois Central, has accepted a position as trainmaster with the southern Railroad, Louisville and St. Louis division. IN THE SCHOOLS

Members of Board of Education Want More Money.

Claim They Can't Get Along With 35 Cents—the Charter on the Subject.

THE COUNCIL DISAGREES

Those members of the Board of Education who have been investigating the needs of the public schools declare that the schools need at least $15,000, and could easily use several thousand more to good advantage considering the new school buildings and new teachers needed.

The law is as follows, Section 3219 of the second class charter:

"Said board shall annually in the month of January, approximately ascertain the amount of money necessary to be used to defray the expenses of maintaining the schools, improving or constructing buildings, etc., therefor, and any liquidation of the liabilities during the current fiscal year, and report the same, together with the amount to be received from the common school fund of the state of Kentucky (which amount the board shall ascertain by taking the census required by law in April) to the auditor, and thereupon the general council shall, at the request of said board levy and collect such taxes as may be requested and the money arising from said levy shall under the direction and control of such board, be used for the benefit of the common schools and for the purpose of paying off the indebtedness of said board: Provided, that the levy shall not in any one year, exceed 35 cents on each $100, and 10 cents on each $100 valuation additional, for sinking fund purpose."

Newport, Ky., which has a population of 32,000, just 7,000 more than Paducah allows the schools $90,000, over twice as much as is allowed the public schools here. A school official gave it as his opinion that $35,000 will barely cover the actual running expenses. Paducah, he says needs two new school buildings badly, and with the rapid growth of Paducah, the improvement will become imperative within the next year. In Mechanicsburg the school is very small and badly located. The milling industries in that locality are large, and the employees have many children who desire educational facilities, and the building in that portion of the city will not accommodate them all. The result is many have to walk to Franklin building, a distance far too great. The rooms, as a result, in the Franklin building are jammed full of pupils and the best results can not be derived from such teaching—where the grade has to be divided and one half taught in the morning and the other in the afternoon.

"In Rowlandtown the school situation is just as bad and a new building is needed there also. It is suggested that there be built a two story, four room building planned so that additions can be made with the growth of the city.

"A building erected in Mechanicsburg and another in Rowlandtown under these plans will answer the purpose, and I am told they can be built with $12,000."

The members of the council, claim that they have simply to fix the tax rate and give the schools not exceeding thirty-five cents on the hundred dollars, and if it is not enough it is all they can get. Mayor D. A. Yeiser was seen this morning in regard to the school levy and stated:

"A 35 cent levy will be made and every cent derived from it paid over to the school board. We figured carefully and can secure $35,000 from this levy without a doubt. When we saw this we stopped figuring and it is possible the total amount will exceed this by a great deal. If the fund derived from the levy reaches $50,000, every cent of it will be paid over to the

A NEW POINT

Raised at the Medical Society Meeting.

Motion Carried Allowing Members to Consult with Homeopaths.

MAY BE RECONSIDERED

A lively time was experienced last evening at the meeting of the McCracken Medical and Surgical society. It was over the question whether or not the members may use their own discretion in consulting with homeopaths.

It seems there has been some little talk among local members because some of them have in the past gone into consultation with members of the homeopathic school, and last night it was brought up and a motion was made that the McCracken association give its members the privilege of using their own discretion about consulting with homeopaths.

This provoked a heated discussion, and those who espoused the motion claimed that it is a rule of the American Medical Association that its members shall be permitted to use their judgment in such cases, and should be allowed in the county societies.

A vote was taken and the motion prevailed by a vote of six to four. It was stated today that this will not settle the matter, as it will be brought up later when there is a larger attendance of members.

WILL BE NEW

PROMOTER RICE SAYS HIS COMPANY HAS MANY ATTRACTIONS.

Mr. L. A. Lagomarsino, of the Carnival Association, received a letter this morning from Mr. W. H. Rice, the well known carnival promoter, in which he highly recommended the Mundy Amusement company which is dickering to furnish the attractions for the Paducah Spring carnival.

In the latter Mr. Rice, who is well known here from the successful carnivals he has promoted, states that every attraction owned and controlled by Mr. Mundy is new to Paducah and will be a decided novelty, all but the animal show which is about the same as with the Ferrari company.

In speaking of the carnival arrangements, Mr. Lagomarsino stated that the carnival or whatever would be given this year would be a week's entertainment and would positively be enclosed. The association will hold a meeting at an early date next month and decide on the best attractions and take steps toward arranging a contract.

The Mundy company has twelve attractions and will have a representative here to bid. Mr. Rice stated in his letter that he too would come if the company wanted him to assist in the work of promotion.

TOTALLY BLIND

EYES OF BOY SHOT HAD TO BE REMOVED.

Drs. Purcell and Stuart found it necessary to remove both eyes of Chester Green, the fourteen year old boy accidentally shot in the face by his brother-in-law near Golconda Tuesday afternoon. Twenty-six bullets were taken from the face and chest and two shots from each eye.

I want it understood that I am in favor of every thing pertaining to the betterment of educational facilities. I am for the schools first, last and all the time, and I wish you would state that for me in your paper."

The council will meet again to night before the regular meeting of the board of aldermen to give second passage to the apportionment ordinance.

FIRST PASSAGE

Given the Tax Apportionment Ordinance.

Only One New Fire Station to Be Built—Schools Get $35,000.

FRANCHISE SALE RATIFIED

The tax apportionment ordinance was given first passage by the council last night, and will be given second passage at another called meeting to be held this evening by that board before being acted on by the aldermen.

At last night's meeting Councilmen Rehkopf, Gilson and Jackson were absent. The ordinance sets aside the following amounts for the various departments:

Salaries legislative department, $2,220 and executive department, $14,280, total $16,500; streets, including culverts and bridges, $22,000; fire department, $17,500; police department, including salaries, city prison, patrol wagon, service and supplies, $23,060; electric plant, $11,500; water, $11,000; real estate, $3,500; city hall, $1,500; Oak Grove, $2,500; hospital, pauper and charity, including Home of Friendless, $6,000; sanitary, including pest house, $2,500; general expenses, $4,600; contingent fund, $1,500; cost and suits, $1,000; interest, $17,000; floating debt, $9,000; sinking fund, $3,900; library $3,500; school fund, $35,000.

All present voted for the ordinance, which will be subject to change when the aldermen consider it. The tax rate will not be fixed until the supervisors finish and it is known what the total valuation and assessment of property amounts to. Calculating on an approximate of $9,000,000, however, the tax rate, as stated yesterday, will probably be $1.65, possibly less and possibly more. It depends on what the board of education does about the allowance made for the schools.

The bid of the Paducah Street Railway company of $25 for a small right of way on North 12th street was accepted. Chairman Hannan was for accepting it when it first came up, as were several others, thinking that it was only just and right that the city should accept the bid, and the council, upon reconsideration last night, agreed to accept it on condition that the company pay the costs of advertising, selling, etc., which it had already agreed to do. Last night, however, Councilmen McCarty, Ingram, Gallman and Watson voted against accepting.

The fire department appropriation in the new ordinance will permit the establishment of only one new station.

HALL CAINE MAY DIE

London, Jan. 21.—Hall Caine, the novelist and dramatist, is completely broken down in health, and is in such physical condition that death may come at any moment.

PLENTY OF IT.

LOTS MORE PROOF LIKE THIS AND IT IS ALL FROM PADUCAH PEOPLE.

"The proof of the pudding is in the eating of it." If any city or town in the union has sufficient proof on the following subject it is Paducah. Genuine merit is finding its reward in the hearty endorsement of local citizens. When people right here at home, friends and neighbors of our readers, give a statement like the following for publication, it is proof convincing for the most skeptical. Read this testimony:

Mrs. Charles Williams, of 700 Terrell street, says: "Despite the use of plasters and home remedies, my back ached almost continually, and as my husband, who is employed by the Singer Sewing Machine Co., on Third street, continually complained of his, we were both constantly on the outlook for some means to check or eradicate the cause. Reading one night about Dean's Kidney Pills induced us to get that remedy at DuBois & Co's drug store and take a course of the treatment. Two boxes thoroughly proved that the preparation acts up to the representations made for it."

A Sweet Breath

Like the fragrance of a rose comes a sweet breath from the healthy stomach. The breath is an index to the health. When the breath is bad the stomach is out of order. A disordered stomach strikes terror to the nervous system and weakens every tissue and muscle of the body. It weakens the brain, the heart and damages the kidneys. A disordered stomach starves the blood and weakens the system because it can not digest and assimilate sufficient food to keep up the health and strength.

corrects every disorder of the stomach. It is not recommended for any complaint except those arising from a disordered condition of the stomach. Kodol does for the stomach that which it is unable to do for itself, even when but slightly disordered or overloaded, relaxing the nervous tension, while the inflamed muscles of that organ are allowed to rest and heal. Kodol cleanses, purifies and sweetens the stomach. When you take Kodol everything you eat tastes good, and every bit of the nutriment that your food contains is digested, assimilated and appropriated by the blood and tissues.

Kodol Digests What You Eat—Makes the Stomach Sweet.

"I have suffered with heart-burn, and have had most severe attacks of same. I could wake in the night with most suffering pains. I read of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and with no faith, tried a bottle. I kept it at my plate on my table, and I must say, found quick relief. In all, I have taken three small bottles, and for the past year have had no return attack." DEAN KIMO MERIDIAN, Wis.

"For a great many years I have been troubled with Dyspepsia. I have tried all the known remedies without obtaining any results. Kodol was recommended to me by my druggist and after taking a few bottles I am glad to say that I can eat anything I wish without suffering from indigestion. I recommend it to all sufferers from Dyspepsia, no matter how serious their case is." E. A. DECKER, Little Falls, N. Y.

IN THE SOUTH

THE LUMBER BUSINESS HAS BEEN REMARKABLE.

New Orleans, Jan. 21.—The Southern Lumber Manufacturers' association met here in fourteenth annual session. N. V. McLeod, president of the association, said of the outlook for the lumber trade.

"The consumption of lumber in the south will probably be very greatly increased on account of the high prices the southern farmers have been getting for their products. Estimates of stocks on hand only show 4 per cent more January 1, 1904, than was shown a year ago. When it is considered that on account of inability to obtain transportation facilities and that there is an actual shortage in the retail yards of over 300,000,000 feet, and that it will take the movement of that amount before the retail yards will have a normal stock, it will be seen that there is an actual shortage of lumber on hand, and that the conditions of supply and demand are favorable to the manufacturer."

Secretary George K. Smith said of the production of lumber.

"Reports from 365 mills for 1902 showed 4,536,655,682 feet produced. These same mills, with thirty additional, show 4,762,791,778 feet, an increase of 226,000,000 feet. We estimate this to be between 80 and 90 per cent of the output of the six states in which the mills are located, viz.: Missouri, Arkansas, Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama.

"Our clearing house summary for 1903, compiled from 203 mills, shows 3,108,000,000 feet cut, an increase over the 175 mills in 1902 of 446,000,000 feet cut."

TO COLONIZE SOUTHWEST.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—Traffic officials of the Santa Fe road estimate that fully 12,000 home seekers started for points in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. The movement is one of the largest of the kind in the history of the effort which the railroads are making to colonize the Southwest.

THE THIEVES AND THE COCK.

Find Owner of House.

Some Thieves once broke into a house, but found nothing in it worth carrying off but a Cock. The poor Cock said as much for him self as a Cock could say, urging them to remember his services in calling people up to their work when it was time to rise. "Nay," said one of the Robbers, "you had better say nothing about that. You alarm people and keep them waking; so that it is impossible for us to rob in comfort."

PESSIMISTIC VIEW

TAKEN BY THEATER MANAGERS OVER ACTION OF CITY COUNCIL.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—Chicago theater managers take an extremely pessimistic view of the situation created by the action of the city council which has finally adopted a stringent theater law. The announcement is made at nearly every playhouse that under the new ordinance there is no hope of continuing in business. The retroactive provisions of the measure put the older theaters beyond the hope of again opening their doors. In the modern theaters the improvements and alterations required will make it impossible, the managers say, to operate with a profit.

Without the galleries, it is claimed, not a theater in Chicago can do more than pay expenses. The books of several managers, it is claimed, show that with the revenue from the top floor eliminated the receipts would fall below the expenses. The change of "rise" in the gallery seats it is said would mean a virtual reconstruction of every theater in the city.

PADUCAHAN'S OPINION.

E. W. Smith, a tobacco manufacturer of Paducah, says there is general depression among the growers in his locality on account of the dry weather this winter, which has made it impossible to strip the crop for market. He says that the purchase of the Imperial Tobacco Company, which buys for export only, have been so light that the buyer for the concern has been moved from Paducah to Henderson, where the receipts are heavier.—Courier Journal.

BALLARDS' HOREHOUND SYRUP

Immediately relieves hoarse, croupy cough, oppressed, rattling, rasping and difficult breathing. Henry O. Stearns, Druggist, Shullsburg, Wisconsin, writes, May 20, 1901: "I have been selling Ballard's Horehound Syrup for two years, and have never had a preparation that has given better satisfaction. I notice that when I sell a bottle, they come back for more. I can honestly recommend it. 25c, 50c and $1 at DuBois, Kolb & Co."

YOUNG LADY HURT.

The right arm of Miss Eva Lyon, an employe at the Horton-Mergenthaler basket factory in Mechanicsburg, was painfully lacerated and wrenched by having it caught by a cog wheel of a machine she was operating late yesterday. She screamed and the machinery was stopped, but not until she had been painfully hurt. Dr. J. S. routman was called and found none of the bones broken. The young lady lives on Clements street.

WANTED MAD STONE

SEVERAL PERSONS BITTEN AT LA CENTER, BALLARD COUNTY.

A dog supposed to have been mad bit several people at La Center, Ballard county, yesterday afternoon and five came in last evening on the Cairo train to have Mr. Frank Mantz's mad stone applied.

G. T. Scott was bitten on the toe, Clint Scott on the heel, Miss Bonnie Scott on the foot, Crystal Scott on the leg and Terrell Grace on the heel. The two men are father and son, the first two young ladies daughters of Mr. Scott and the other the eight year old daughter of Mr. Charles Grace. Mr. John Crice was also slightly bitten but did not come for the mad stone. The wounds are all slight, hardly severe enough to break the skin.

IRON FURNACE

NOTED CASE IS TO BE SETTLED SHORTLY BY REFEREE.

Referee E. W. Bagby has decided that the banks that hold warehouse receipts against the iron furnace company that went into bankruptcy two or three years ago after Peter Arlund had run it awhile, will come in first in the distribution of the $6,000 which Colonel R. G. Caldwell, as trustee, has had for some time waiting for the court to decide what to do with it.

The banks filed their claims first, and laborers afterward filed claims amounting to about $400. The referee has finally decided that the claims of the banks, by virtue of their character, have precedence, and will shortly render a written opinion and have Colonel Caldwell make the distribution. This case has nothing to do with the pending bankruptcy proceedings of the company that subsequently tried to run the furnace.

WORSE IN SERVIA

AND THE KING SAYS HE IS READY TO QUIT.

Vienna, Jan. 21.—King Peter, of Servia, according to a report from Cetinje, Montenegro, published by the Neues Wiener Journal, is prepared voluntarily to renounce the throne and allow the powers to nominate his successor.

The prince of Montenegro is said to have received a mandate from Russia to clear up the precarious condition in Servia and King Peter is alleged to have recognized the untenability of his position and to be willing to abdicate. His successor, it is added, will only be permitted to ascend the throne conditionally on his agreeing to punish the leaders of the conspiracy which resulted in the assassination of King Alexander and Queen Draga, removing all those who were directly or indirectly concerned in the regicide.

Reports indicate that affairs in Servia are steadily growing worse and that they are causing great anxiety in Russia and Austria. The Servian conspirators are said to be openly threatening to take revenge on Europe by joining in the expected Macedonian outbreak in the spring. The internal condition of Servia is alarming. Outside the towns life and property are insecure. The roads are infested with brigands.

DIED OF PNEUMONIA.

Mr. Thomas Willingham, aged 34, of Princeton, Ky., and formerly sheriff of Caldwell county, died last evening from pneumonia at the city hospital. He came here to accept a position with the Illinois Central, but was taken ill and had to go to the hospital. Miss Mary Willingham, a sister, arrived last night and his death occurred shortly thereafter. She left today for Dawson Springs with the body, and the burial will take place there.

A DYING MAN

WROTE HIS WILL—ENGINEER R. A. SWEET'S LAST WRITING.

The will of Robert A. Sweets, the well known Illinois Central engineer, who died as a result of injuries sustained in the collision near Paducah on December 29, was tendered for probate in the county court at Louisville yesterday, but laid over until the depositions of the three witnesses can be received.

Sweets, who lived at 1606 West Broadway, was horribly mangled in the wreck. While barely conscious he called for a piece of paper, and on being handed a yellow railroad blank, wrote the following lines:

"Being in my right mind, but recognizing that I may die, I direct that my property shall go to my wife, both real and personal. Witness my signature. "ROBERT SWEETS."

With the precision characteristic of a railroad map, Sweets wrote: "11 O. P. M." across the top of the blank.

The witnesses were three doctors, D. G. Murrell, H. S. Childress and E. R. Earle. They have been sent for to appear in the county court.

COUGHING SPELL

CAUSED DEATH.

"Harry Duckwell, aged 25 years, choked to death early yesterday morning at his home, in the presence of his wife and child. He contracted a slight cold a few days ago and paid but little attention to it. Yesterday morning he was seized with a fit of coughing which continued for some time. His wife sent for a physician, but before he could arrive, another coughing spell came on and Duckwell died from suffocation.—St. Louis Globe Democrat, Dec. 1, 1901." Ballard's Horehound Syrup would have saved him. 25c, 50c and $1 at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

THE WEATHER.

Rain or snow and cooler tonight and

JAMES TO THE FRONT.

Representative Ollie James, of Kentucky, has introduced in congress a bill providing that no civil law suit brought or pending in state courts shall be transferred to a United States court on account of diverse citizenship of the litigants, unless the amount of controversy exceeds $10,000.

Whatever reason Congressmen James
may give for wanting this law passed,
it is palpable that its purpose is only to keep all damage suits against railroads and other corporations in the state courts, where country juries can get a whack at them.

The federal courts these days are about the only places railroads and other corporations have an equal chance for justice. Federal judges as a rule are able men, and their appointment for life gives them more incentive to decide points coming before them in an equitable way, than if they were dependent on popularity and pull for their jobs, which is the case with many circuit judges. In fact, very inferior men are in many states placed not only on the circuit bench, but even on the appellate bench. Some of them are not even considered good lawyers
where they were raised and practiced.
This, together with the class of men usually on juries, has made the state courts mere lotteries, with heavy odds against the monied interests. Hence lawyers of a certain class prefer the state courts.

At present a case cannot be transferred from the civil to federal courts
unless the amount is $2,000 or more.
This is why you often see where some one has brought suit for $1,999. It is to keep the suit from being tried in the federal court. Congressman James' bill is to raise the limit from $2,000 to $10,000. It is a good measure for shyster lawyers, who will hail with joy any law that will enable them to keep their blackmailing suits against corporations in the state courts, where they can play on the ignorance and prejudice of juries. But the bill will no doubt meet a just fate
in some pigeon-hole in the committee room.

THE FEE SYSTEM.

As over the state there is more or less of a feeling of discontent in K. & G. Grove's signature is on each box.

SONGS OF THE DAY.

A LITTLE WORLD SONG.

The world, it ain't a Paradise,
And all the saints are dead;
But the green turf's just beneath you,
And the blue skies overhead;
And the poorest man is rich enough
To bless his daily bread.

The world, it ain't a Paradise,
But, as it rolls along,
It helps to light the pathway
Where the constellations throng;
And it's mighty close to Heaven
With it'd sunlight and its song.

It's just a dream of Paradise—
A glimpse of joys to be,
When these fetters, rough or rosy,
Shall be loosed from you and me;
When the lights shine from the harbor,

And the ships get home from sea.
—F. L. Stanton, in Atlanta Constitution.

ing urged by papers irrespective of party affiliation to put commonwealth and county attorneys exclusively on a salary, and there seems to be no reason why it should not be done. Such an officer, if he cannot do his duty without the incentive of getting a part of all fines assessed, is not fit for the place he holds. And in many cases unfortunately, he is not.

The great trouble with the office of commonwealth attorney is that the official gets nothing for sending a man to the penitentiary, while he gets a big rake-off for every fine assessed. It is very clear that it is money in his pocket to have as many fines as possible assessed, and often he admirably succeeds and incidentally at the expense of justice. The Owensboro Inquirer opportunely says along this line:

"Wherever it is possible to reduce a felony charge to a misdemeanor, it is too frequently done if the defendant can pay the fine. There is possibly no way to prevent the corrupt settlement of cases out of court by the payment of the percentage of an agreed fine to the commonwealth's attorney, thus securing the dismissal of the case. This has been a crying shame in at least one district, though it should be said that it is not likely to happen again soon. The only remedy for this is the stern and just judge who shall keep in touch with the affairs of his court and forbid the carrying out of such arrangements. The abolition of the fee system, however, would cut off many of the most flagrant practices in many of the courts, and would insure far better enforcement of the law than is now possible."

POOR OLD CHICAGO.

Chicago will doubtless not recover
in many a day from the horrible Iroquois theater disaster. Some of the theaters will never reopen and the city seems dead. While there should be ample protection at all times for human life, there does not appear to be any necessity for getting hysterical and carrying it to such an extreme. It would be about as sensible because an awful wreck happened on some railroad to stop all the trains from running.

Speaking of present conditions in Chicago, a paper says:
"Hotel guests remain in their rooms
nobody comes downtown at night, restaurants are as silent and sepulchral
as a church; and when one sojourner from abroad does venture forth upon the echoing pavements of Michigan avenue, if he sees another man lurking in the shadows between the long rows of street lights stretching away
into the murky silence he quickly runs back into his hotel, for fear it is a footpad. They say you could detect the step of a cat walking along State street after 9 o'clock at night, and that you can easily hear the are 'light.'"

"The antinoise society has suspended operations. Those who are left in the heart of the city after nightfall would give anything for something audible.
Snow crunching under the heels of a hurrying messenger boy is a welcome sound, and there isn't a whisper to interrupt the 'slosh, slosh' of the lake
against the breakwater, a mile away.
Everywhere is that deathlike, terrible, unprecedented, voiceless calm.
Peace reigns in Warsaw. Mayor Carter Harrison spoke and the world stood still, for when Chicago stands still it is the Chicago opinion that the universe assumes a similar restful attitude."

Senator Blackburn has changed his tune considerably since his declaration that he "didn't give a rap what the Louisville Board of Trade" thought about the Panama treaty. In a response to the formal notice of the board's resolution he says:

A Scene from "The Cavalier" at The Kentucky Tomorrow Night.

ing the most careful attention to the matter and intend by my action to illustrate not only a full measure of regard for the best interests of the country, but an honest purpose to uphold its honor, its observance of international law and the rules of fair dealing which should obtain among nations. I think I have succeeded in my effort to acquaint myself with the issue in all of its phases." He doesn't say this time that he will do what he believes will be best for the Democratic party and let the rest of the country go hang itself. In fact, he doesn't once mention the Democratic party.

Senator Foraker, of Ohio, has come out unequivocally for President Roosevelt, and in an interview says: "I am an out and out, unqualified supporter of President Roosevelt. I believe in the man. I believe in his administration. I believe he will be the strongest candidate who can be named, and I believe he will be triumphantly elected, and I believe there should be no halting or hesitation on the part of Ohio Republicans about supporting him." There will be a lot of others to do the same thing Senator Foraker has done before very long.

A bill has been introduced at Frankfort to establish a telephone and telegraph commission of three to be appointed by the governor with $1500 salaries. It is likely that next there will be street car commissions, electric light commissions, and all other kinds of commissions. It is getting so these days that about the only way men who invest their money in many enterprises can run their own business is to let somebody else do it for them.

Some distinguished gentleman in the legislature has introduced a bill providing that drunkenness in Kentucky may be punished by confinement in an inebriate asylum proposed to be built at Lakeland, from three months to three years. That's right, gentlemen, locate it near Frankfort and save the state mileage.

The members of the council who last night accepted the bid of $25 for a street car extension franchise showed the proper spirit. Chairman Hannan made a fight for it at the start, and the others who voted for it soon saw that it was the best thing to do.

TO PUT DOWN FLIRTING.

Youths of St. Petersburg Form Peculiar Club.

There is an Anti-Flirting club in St. Petersburg, which, as its name implies, is to prevent wanton trifling with the affections of susceptible
young people in the Russian capital and elsewhere. At a meeting recently there were present thirty-seven young men belonging to the higher ranks of society, who exchanged a solemn promise to refrain from the pernicious habit and to prevent others from flirting. Those breaking their promise must contribute for charitable purposes $500 the first time and $2,500 the second time. After the third offense the guilty one will be expelled from the club, and may only be readmitted after the expiration of one year.

MADE DRUNK BY MOTORING.

New Melody Traced to the Present-day Mania for Automobiles.

A new disease has been discovered
by the medical profession of Paris which they have named "motor intoxication." It is an affection of the mental faculties and is directly traceable to scorching in automobiles.

Hatchet Souplet, at the last meeting of the Societe d'Hypnologie et de Psychologie, spoke of the intoxicating effect of rapid motor locomotion. The mental and moral state of the driver becomes abnormal. He grows vindictive, furiously aggressive and lets himself be carried away by the angry impulse of the moment. The high rate of speed works him up into the very same state of mind which makes the habitual drinker of alcohol regardless of consequences. Both abuse, swear and use vile language. Hatchet Souplet quoted a number of instances from police reports of trials of automobilists in which self-control and the sense of dignity entirely deserted gentlemen of high education and breeding.

Dr. Berillon, an eminent man, corroborated everything Hatchet Sou-plet had said. Dr. Berillon knows a motorman who ran over a peasant and rushed on after he did so as furiously as before. He returned home in the state of depression that follows a long rush forward at the pace of an express train, and never gave a thought of his victim on the road until he read three days after, how he had killed him. He then felt sorry, declared himself guilty of the death of the peasant and settled an annuity on his family.

A Man's Time to Die.

When a man appeared the other day before Justice Blume, in Chicago, and asked for protection against some neighbors who had threatened to kill him, the justice refused to grant the request. When asked for his reasons he said that when it came a man's time to die he would die, and not before. He announced himself as a fatalist and said belief came from his own experiences. He says he has passed through seven accidents, three hold-ups, one fire, two drownings, 150 falls, pneumonia, concussion of the brain, and all the dangers of several battles of the civil war. "If all these things won't kill a man," said the justice, "there is a special Providence
looking after him."

Defendant Gets Verdict in the Livingston-Peyton Case In Circuit Court.

NEWS OF THE OTHER COURTS

Police Judge D. L. Sanders held a short session of court this morning.

Kid Wilson, the steamboat man arrested several days ago for the alleged robbery of William Gayton on the levee, was found guilty of petty larceny and sentenced to three months in the city prison at hard labor. Wilson is alleged to have robbed Gayton while he latter slept, but the evidence was such that a robbery charge could not be made to stick against him. Two of the principal witnesses live in distant states, one in New York and the other in Pennsylvania.

William Frogge, colored, who stole coal, was given thirty days in the city prison.

Thomas Bostick, white, was arraigned for a breach of the peace, and the case continued until tomorrow.

To Tax Fat People.

The project of a tax on fat people is being considered in Sweden. The advocates of the tax argue that when a man is above a certain weight he is in a well-fed and consequently prosperous condition; and so in a position to contribute easily to the public funds.

Sheep Dog Decorated in Paris. Tram, a large sheep dog owned by a suburban resident, has been decorated by the Paris Society for the Protection of Animals. At the meeting of the association held in the winter circus, the Minister of Agriculture being in the chair, Tram's record of services was read out. He has saved several persons, including his master, from drowning, has dragged small children out of the way of passing vehicles, and has frequently found missing objects for his owner. For all these distinguished services Tram was decorated with a splendid collar, inscribed with his own name and with that of his master. The decorated dog barked and bounded about with delight on the platform after the collar was put on his neck, much to the amusement of all present at the meeting. The society distributed awards to policemen who had summoned carters and cabmen for cruelty to their horses. Some of the Paris cabmen who are noted for treating their animals well were also recompensed.—Paris correspondence of the London Telegraph.

INSCRIPTION TOLD THE TRUTH.

Certainly Those in the Cemetery Had "Come to Stay."

Some years ago the board of directors of a cemetery in Chester county, Pa., was considering the plans for an elaborate gateway. Three of the directors, who were wags in a way, had the greater part of the work on their shoulders. One evening they met at the office of one of the members, at which time the plans were discussed. Among other things they wanted to select a proper inscription for the granite arch. One of the members suggested the word "Welcome." "No," said another, who had a more serious turn of mind, "the inscription ought to be 'Resting in the Lord.'" "Perhaps they're not," said the remaining member, "so I would most respectfully suggest 'We've come to stay.'"

MR. GRIFFITH BETTER.

Mr. W. Y. Griffith, who was injured in a street car accident yesterday morning, is better today. He suffered a great deal yesterday but was reported greatly improved today.

MEAT'S PLACE

NOT NEEDED BY ALL.

A Beverly, Mass., family experienced a curious change by leaving off meat and using Grape Nuts.

"For 9 or 10 years my husband had poor health, constantly doctoring, and at times would lay out $10 and $12 once or twice with Dr. — of Boston and once or twice with Dr. — of Boston, two famous specialists. The amount above I have mentioned was just for one treatment. He was treated for heart trouble and at another time for dyspepsia and another time for catarrh of the stomach. The treatment would help him for the time but he would lapse back again into the same condition.

"He was told that flesh foods were not good for him nor me. We felt willing to give up the meat, but of course needed something to take its place. I bought a package of Grape Nuts because of the nourishment the food was advertised to contain, so we gave up the meat, and in its place had Grape Nuts on our table and for several months used the Grape Nuts the same as I used flesh foods before, along with my vegetables, fruits and other foods.

"Day by day the change showed until in a few months my husband was a new man, all heart trouble, dyspepsia and stomach trouble left him and he has not paid out one doctor's bill since, even his disposition has changed. We all changed, children and all; our very home was changed, to, for where irritableness had been, happiness has come and I shall have to give credit to the food that has more than filled the place of meat on my table, and every day you can find Grape Nuts a part of our diet.

"We have three perfectly healthy children who have never had any of the children's diseases but whooping cough and measles. While other diseases have been around them their constitutions seemed to be above them and it's all owing to what their diet has been, of which Grape Nuts has been a noted part.

"My husband is a perfectly healthy looking man now while three years ago he looked like a skeleton—all owing to the food he adopted. In regard to myself: I used to be troubled with my memory—I could not remember anything I read and would be confused, but when I gave up my flesh foods and used Grape Nuts my memory came back to me and I can read and know what I am reading about and remember it. May Grape Nuts have a place in every home." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason. Look in each package for a copy of the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

Anyone can catch fish in California

Bait, a line, hook, rod and a little patience are all that are necessary.

There is good sport within a stone's throw of several of the largest hotels along the coast, but the best fishing is at Santa Catalina Island. Santa Catalina is the home of the tuna—Tiger of the Pacific—which attains a weight of 200 pounds and has been known to tow a boat for hours. The tuna visits Santa Catalina for only a few days in the year, but sea bass, yellow-tail and barracuda are plentiful the year round.

Santa Catalina is only three and one-half hours from Los Angeles and Los Angeles is only three and one-half days from Chicago via the Rock Island System. Full information on request.

BADLY MASHED.

OSCAR WOOD MAY LOSE AN ARM.

Oscar Wood, a white track laborer employed by the local I. C., had an arm mashed badly yesterday afternoon about 5:30 o'clock at the coal chute. The member will probably have to be amputated.

Wood was working on the coal chute near an empty car when switch engine No. 182, in charge of Engineer Hunter and Foreman Jerry Arnold, backed into the car and made a coupling preparatory to moving the car to another part of the yard. Wood was in some position under the car unable to make himself seen and his right arm was caught on the track and run over by a car wheel.

As soon as the accident was discovered the engine was stopped and Wood taken to the hospital. The injury was dressed and the physicians will attempt to save the member. Wood lives at No. 11, Huntington Row.

AWAY FROM HOME.

YOU GO WHEN YOU WANT NEWS SOMETIME.

The Mayfield Messenger says: The Rev. Ham, the great Baptist revivalist is in the midst of a successful revival at the first Baptist church in Paducah.

He has created an unusual interest among the brethren and the friends of that church. So much so, that their spiritual strength has become so renewed that at most of their meetings there is much of the old time "shouting" indulged in which is entirely new to the members of that church.

It must be remembered that there has never been any shouting done in that church and when the shouting began the other night, it almost produced a panic among several of the brothers and sisters of that modern flock.

It required much cool judgment among the wiser heads to prevent a panic when the shouting began.

STILL GROWING

CUMBERLAND IS NOW BUILDING ANOTHER LINE INTO METROPOLIS.

The Cumberland Telephone company is building another line into Metropolis, Ill. It has one line into the place but its business has so increased that it has found it necessary to run another line into the town, and it now has a large force of men at work on it.

The Paducah East Tennessee system of the Cumberland is still expanding, and about February 1 Manager Joynes will put in another section of switchboard with 200 new phones. At present every available telephone is being carried by the switch board, 1750 in number, and there are about 45 waiting until the new section is put in.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 21.—The police arrested Frank Uhler, a printer, 19 years of age, on a charge of robbing the dead after the fire in the Iroquois theater. Uhler attempted to dispose of a diamond ring valued at $800, and when taken into custody confessed that he had stolen it from the hand of a dead man which was hanging over the edge of a wagon when the load of corpses was backed up in front of the morgue.

FAVORABLE TO DREYFUS.

Paris, Jan. 21.—The Associated Press learns that the report of Attorney General Baudern is favorable to Dreyfus, following the view adopted by the court which recommended a revision of the case. The attorney general today finished the examination of the case before the court of cassation. The decision of the court which is not expected for some weeks, probably will be in favor of Dreyfus.

But the querulous words were not uttered, for as the manager was about to leave the box in considerable perturbation there, gazing down upon them at a window next to that occupied by the landlord, stood Constance!

For a tippet or a ruff or some equally wretched frippery, carelessly left by the old lady, all their plans for deliverance appeared likely to miscarry. Presumably Constance, turned from her original purpose by the noisy altercation, had hurried to the window, where now the landlord perceived her and immediately availed himself of the advantage offered.

"So one of you is left behind," he shouted exultantly. "And it's the leading lady too! I'll take care she stays here until after a settlement. I'll stop you yet! Stealing away in the middle of the night, you—you vagabonds!"

His voice, growing louder and louder, ended in a shrieking crescendo. Dismounted, there seemed no alternative for the players save to turn back and surrender unconditionally. Barnes breathed a deep sigh; so much for a tippet! Their dash for freedom had been but a sorry attempt! Now he saw visions of prison bars and uttered a groan when the soldier, who was riding his own horse, dashed forward beneath the window and stood upright in his stirrups.

"Do not be afraid, Miss Carew," he said.

Fortunately the window was low and the distance inconsiderable, but Barnes held his breath, hoping the hazard would deter her.

"Do not, my dear," he began.

But she did not hesitate. The sight of the stalwart figure and the strong arms apparently reassured her, and she stepped upon the sill.

"Quick!" he exclaimed, and at the word she dropped into his upstretched arms. Scarcely had she escaped, however, before the landlord was seen at the same window. So astonished was he to find her gone surprise at first held him speechless; then he burst into a volley of oaths that would have shamed a whaler's master.

"Come back!" he cried. "Come back or—" The alternative was lost in vengeful imprecation.

Holding Constance before him, the soldier resumed his saddle. "Drive on!" he cried to Barnes as past the chariot sped his horse with its double burden.

CHAPTER XVI.

DOWN the Father of Waters a month or so after their flight into the blue grass country steamed the packet bearing the company of players to New Orleans.

Drawing up in due course to the levee, they became a part of the general bustle and confusion; hurriedly disembarked, rushed about for their luggage, because every one else was rushing; hastily entered carriages, of which there was a limited supply, and were whisked off over the rough cobblestones which constituted the principal pavements of the city.

The hotel was finally reached, and what a unique hostelry it was! "Set the St. Charles down in St. Petersburg," commented a chronicler in 1846, "and you would think it a palace; in Boston, and ten to one you would christen it a college; in London, and it would remind you of an exchange." It represented at that day the evolution of the American tavern, the primitive inn, instituted for passengers and way-faring men; the development of the pot-house to the metropolitan hotel, of the rural ale room to the palatial saloon.

Beneath the porch and reception hall extended the large barroom, where several score of men were enjoying their liquors and lunches, and the hum of conversation, the clinking of glasses and the noise made by the skillful mixer of drinks were as sweet music to the manager when shortly after he strode to the bar.

"Why, it's Utopia!" thought Barnes. "Every one is happy!"

But even as he thus ruminated his glance fell upon an old man seated at a table whom the waiters treated with such deference the manager concluded he must be some one of no slight importance. This gentleman was thin, wrinkled and worn, with a face Voltairean in type, his hair scanty, his dress elegant and his satirical smile like the "dash of a dagger in the sunlight." He was inspecting his bouillon with manifest distrust, adjusting his eyeglass and thrusting his head close to the plate. The look of suspicion deepened and finally a grimace of triumph illumined his countenance as he rapped excitedly on the table.

"Waiter, waiter, do you see that soup?" he almost shouted.

"Yes, M. le Marquis," was the humble response.

"Look at it well!" thundered the old gentleman. "Do you find nothing extraordinary about it?"

Again the bouillon was examined, to the amusement of the manager.

"I am sorry, M. le Marquis, I can detect nothing unusual," politely responded the waiter when he had concluded a painstaking scrutiny with all the gravity and seriousness attending so momentous an investigation.

"You are blind!" exclaimed the old man. "See there; a spot of grease floating in the bouillon, and there another and another! In fact, here is an 'archipelago of Greece!'" This witicism was relieved by an ironical smile. "Take it away!"

The waiter hurried off with the offending dish, and the old man looked immensely satisfied over the disturbance he had created.

"Well has it been said," thought the manager, "that the destiny of a nation depends upon the digestion of its first minister! I wonder what he'll do next?"

Course after course that followed was rejected, the guest keeping up a running comment:

"This sauce is not properly prepared. This salad is not well mixed. I shall

"The worst meal I've ever had" starve in this place. These trifles, spoiled in the importation?"

"Oh, M. le Marquis"—clapping his hands in despair—"they were preserved in melted paraffin."

"What do I care about your paraffin? Never mind anything more, waiter. I could not eat a mouthful. What is the bill? Very well, and there is something for yourself, blockhead."

"Thank you, M. le Marquis," deferentially.

"The worst meal I've ever had! And I've been in Europe, Asia and Africa! Abominable, abominable—idiot of a waiter—miserable place, miserable—and this dyspepsia!"

Thus running on, with snatches of caustic criticism, the old gentleman shambled out, the waiter holding the door open for him and bowing obsequiously.

"An amiable individual!" observed Barnes to the waiter. "Is he stopping at the hotel?"

"No, monsieur. He has an elegant house near by. The last time he was here he complimented the cook and praised the sauces. He is a little—what you call it?—whimsical!"

"Yes; slightly inclined that way. But is he here alone?"

"He is, monsieur. He loses great sums in the gambling rooms. He keeps a box at the theater for the season. He is the marquis—a prince—a great lord!"

"Even if he calls you 'har' and 'blockhead'?"

"Oh, monsieur," displaying a silver dollar with an expressive shrug of the shoulders, "this is the—what you call it?—balm."

Still grumbling to himself, the marquis reached the main corridor, where the scene was almost as animated as in the bar and where the principal topic of conversation seemed to be horses and races that had been run or were about to be run.

Sitting moodily in a corner with legs crossed and hat upon his knee, was a young man whose careless glance wandered from time to time from his cigar to the passing figures. As the marquis slowly hobbled along, with an effort to appear alert, the young man arose quickly and came forward with a conventional smile, intercepting the old nobleman near the door.

"My dear M. le Marquis," he exclaimed effusively, "it is with pleasure I see you recovered from your recent indisposition."

"Recovered!" almost shrieked the marquis. "I'm far from recovered. I'm worse than ever. I detest congratulations, monsieur! It's what a lying world always does when you are on the verge of dissolution."

"You are as discerning as ever," murmured the land baron, for it was Edward Mauville.

"I'm not fit to be around. I only came out"—with a sardonic chuckle—"because the doctors said it would be fatal."

"Surely you do not desire"—

"To show them they are impostors? Yes."

Pilot William Edwards, of the steamer Dick Fowler, has accepted the position of captain on the steamer Henrietta and went out yesterday with her into Tennessee river on the first trip as commander. He has been succeeded on the Dick Fowler by Captain Lee Gordon.

"The river outlook is very encouraging," Captain Joe Fowler remarked this morning, "and if this weather continues the river will be open to navigation again before long."

"One big ice gorge has broken above and is coming down and with general rains the others will break away and float out. We think the rains have been general and all we ask is for a continuation of rainy weather for a few more days. That would serve to better the situation and will be a God-send to the river men."

HE FOUND A CURE.

R. H. Foster, 318 S. 2d street, Salt Lake City, writes: "I have been bothered with dyspepsia or indigestion for 21 years, have tried many doctors without relief, but I have found a cure in Herbine. I recommend it to all my friends, who are afflicted that way, and it is curing them, too. 50c at DuBois, Kolb & Co."

Mrs. Enpeck—Do you believe that nonsense about there being a man in the moon?

Enpeck—No; but I believe there's a woman in the sun, all right.

Why do you believe that?

Otherwise it wouldn't be so hot there.

"Quincy Adams Sawyer" perhaps the best advertised play on the stage

today, was enjoyed last night by a fairly large audience at The Kentucky

The audience found it all that was claimed for it, and more. Many of the characters of the book, which is very prolific of them, are in the play,

and it is considered by critics everywhere as the equal of "Way Down

East" and other plays of that class.

There are rural scenes without stint,

plenty of fun, and good humor, and the singing and acting and lovmaking

are as real as could be desired.

The play, a dramatization of Charles

Felton Pidgin's story, deals with the good country people who make up the little Massachusetts community of Mason's Corner. Quincy Adams Sawyer

is a young lawyer, with money, brains, muscle and culture. He goes to Mason's Corner and excites the curiosity

of all the village people, who follow him about with open eyes and mouths. They wonder what his business is and what his intentions are.

The village beaux grow "green with envy" and the belles fall in love with him. He makes friends with all except Prof. Obadiah Strout, the music teacher in the village, and a soldier of fortune with political aspirations and a desire to "run the town," and Bob

Wood, the town bully. Sawyer resents

an insult offered in the country store,

and in a lively fist encounter destroys

the bully's reputation as a real bad man by giving him a black eye. In the meantime, Sawyer acts as a peacemaker and matchmaker upon numerous occasions, and falls in love himself with a charming girl, Alice Pettengill, who has lost her eyesight. He enlists the interest of a noted oculist,

who restores the girl's sight. Obadiah

Strout continues to make war on young

Sawyer, who succeeds in having

Strout's appointment as postmaster

held up in the United States senate.

He also defeats the professor for tax collector. The professor tells his adversary that he will continue to teach music, play the church organ and refuses to be run out. Sawyer then announces that he will send to Boston

for two sure enough music teachers whose services shall be free for the town's people. He also proposes to buy a handsome organ for the church,

provided a new organist is selected.

The professor begs for peace, and Sawyer disposes of his last enemy.

One of the best scenes is that of the hushing bee, and the snow storm was songs and moving pictures.

Grace B. Hughes, whose stage name is Mary Montague, brought suit today against David Belasco, Maurice Campbell and Henrietta Crossman, alleging that Sweet Kitty Bellairs had been pirated from a play, entitled Sweet Jasmine, taken from Egerton Castle's novel, "The Bath Comedy." Miss Montague claims to be the author of Sweet Jasmine.

Mr. Tell Taylor, who had a prominent part last night in "Quincy Adams Sawyer," is quite a writer, and is author of the song "Eventide" in "A Son of Rest," enjoyed here recently with Nat M. Wills in the title role.

In Seclusion.

In the summer and fall a prominent broker doing business in New York hires himself to a small town in Jersey and revels in his imaginary bucolic life. The other day he engaged a very respectful colored man to cut the grass in front of his cottage.

That night, upon returning from the city, he paused to watch the colored brother gathering up his tools in lazy fashion, and asked him where he came from.

"F'm Richmond, sah, an' I doan like it up heah at all."

"Why not?" the suburbanite asked.

"It cos' too much. I doan know how I'd ever a-got on ef I hadn't sent home fer things. I gits 'em to do all my washin' down there. Las' year my washin' cos' me 90 cents. I sent it home three times in a bar'l, 'deed I did."

Slowly he gathered his mower, scythe and sickle, and when he was about moving off he stopped abruptly and said:

"My folks doan know I'm a-cuttin' grass up heah, 'deed they doan; they think I'm in some big b's'n's."—New York Sun.

Limitations of Ghosts.

When you have read one of these stories you have read them all. Although the behavior of ghosts may appear eccentric when judged by the standard of conduct prevailing among the living, their habits are, in fact, most regular; they seem to possess little character or originality and probably their ideas are very limited. Some of them walk along the passage or up the stairs; others knock on the walls or furniture, ring bells, slam doors or break crockery; now and then you come across one who shrieks; and there seem to be a few strange specimens who appear (and disappear). But the facilities do not go beyond this. A very remarkable proof of their limitations, or their slavish adherence to tradition, is that, though I have before me at the present moment a dozen authenticated ghosts who have been heard walling upstairs, there seems to be no case on record in which a ghost has been heard walking down. Why anybody should think it worth while to chronicle the movements of such uninteresting creatures I cannot understand. An account of the day's doings of a flock of sheep would be very much more exciting.—London Truth.

Origin of Family Name.

King Peter's family name of Kara-georgievitch is said by M. Rene Tallandier in his book, "La Serbie, Kara-George et Milosch," to have originated as follows: For his sister's wedding George Petrovitch (the grandfather of King Peter) had given her some bee hives. His mother in his absence changed some of them and when he discovered this he placed one of them on his mother's head. She called out: "That villain George—that black villain!" Hence the surname (Tserni-George, Kara-George). The mother, who escaped with a few stings, was, it appears, fond of repeating this anecdote about her famous son, who drove the Turks out of Servia.
